

NEXT WEEK IS TO SEE FINISH

Standard Oil Inquiry In New York Promises
Many New Terminations Soon.

ADMIT THE INDEPENDENTS SIDE

Prominent Pennsylvania Enemy Of The Standard Tells Of The Alliance Spoken Of In The Testimony.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Sept. 21.—The adjournment until Monday of the hearing here in the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil company will give the government's expert accountants another day in which to obtain figures from the books containing the records of the Standard Oil company in the period from 1882 to 1892.

Tilford Again
These figures will probably lead to an interesting line of questioning next week by Frank S. Kellogg, the government's chief counsel. It is likely that when the hearing is resumed next week Wesley H. Tilford, the treasurer of the Standard Oil company, will again take the stand. John G. Milburn of counsel for the corporation wishes to question him upon several points which have been touched upon by Mr. Kellogg.

William Rockefeller
William G. Rockefeller, it is understood, will then be called to the stand, and asked by Mr. Kellogg to produce several books relating to the assistant treasurer's office.

W. E. B. Smith
W. E. B. Smith, one of the leading men in the export department here, of the Standard Oil Co., is wanted by the government as a witness, but Mr. Kellogg learned from Mr. Tilford that Mr. B. Smith is in the east and will not return for ten months, or more.

Admits Agreement
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 21.—A. D. Miller, Jr., of A. D. Miller & Sons, independent oil refiners, with headquarters in this city, admitted last night that there was some kind of an agreement between the independent refiners and the Standard Oil company. He declined, however, to discuss the agreement in detail.

Says Tilford Knows

When it was called to his attention that Treasurer Tilford of the Standard Oil company testifying at New York in the suit of the government for dissolution of the alleged oil combine in New Jersey, had admitted yesterday that in 1902 an agreement was entered into by which the independent refiners were to sell their entire output of oil refined for export to the Standard, which in turn, was to sell to the independents a certain amount of crude oil each day, Mr. Miller replied:

Denies One Fact

Mr. Miller denied one story brought out in the hearing. The government attorneys had heard that A. D. Miller & Sons on one occasion had complained to W. H. Wall, head of the Petroleum association of Cleveland that the Standard Oil company had objected to the Pittsburgh corporation selling refined oil to any other firm. We never made any such complaint, said Mr. Miller.

ONCE NOTED SINGER NOW ILL IN SWEDEN

Countess de Miranda, Formerly Prominent Vocalist of the World Now 65 Years Old and is Feeble.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Stockholm, Sept. 21.—The Countess de Miranda, better known as Christine Nilsson, who was world famous years ago as an operatic singer, is dangerously ill at her childhood home near the harbor of Helsingborg, on the southern coast of the Swedish peninsula.

ern coast of the Swedish peninsula. The Countess has been out of the public eye for twenty years now, but there are many who still preserve a vivid recollection of how her exquisite voice thrilled large audiences in America in the twenties.

The once famous singer is now in her sixty-fifth year. Her father was a peasant and she was the eighth child. Her father was an impassioned admirer of music and it was from him that Christine learned the first scale of the musical notes. She began her public career as a child by singing at fairs and weddings under the direction of an older brother. One day at a fair at Ljumbj the singing of Christine attracted the attention of a local magistrate by the name of Thornerholm, who saw her parents and arranged for the education of the young girl.

She was first sent to an excellent school in Gothenburg, where she was trained two years. Afterward she was sent to Stockholm, where she was instructed by M. Franz Berwald. She made her first appearance at Stockholm in 1840, went to Paris, continued her musical education under Masset and Wurlet, and made her debut at the Theatre Lyrique, in October, 1841, as Violetta in the "Traviata," with such success that she was engaged for three years. She made her first appearance in London at Her Majesty's Theatre in 1847, and proved the great operatic attraction at that establishment during the season. In 1870 she made her first visit to the United States, where, within less than a year, she is said to have cleared nearly $200,000.

Her first husband was M. Auguste Rouzand, the son of an eminent French merchant to whom she was married in London in 1872. He died in Paris ten years later, and in 1887 she married Count Axel de Miranda, a man of a very attractive little man, the son of a lady who was connected to the first wife of the late King of Spain and whom the latter raised to the rank of countess.

The story of Miranda's marriage with Christine Nilsson is a peculiar one. He was her husband only in name, and never lived with her. The famous singer merely married him on account of his daughter. The latter was a lovely girl whose acquaintance Christine made at Nice. The singer became devotedly attached to the girl and finally declared that she could not bear the idea of separation and proposed to adopt her. The Count de Miranda gave his consent, stipulating, however, that the singer should likewise adopt him as husband and provide for his financial welfare, undertaking to remain her husband only in name. The arrangement was carried out according to agreement.

With her marriage Christine retired from the operatic stage and continued to divide her time between France and Spain. Of late years, however, she has made her home altogether in Sweden.

PRACTICE GAMES OF FOOTBALL IN EAST

Princeton Lost Several Veterans, But "Penn." and Cornell Have Many Old Men Back.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Sept. 21.—Among the Eastern colleges football for 1907 for 1907 makes its initial bow today. The first scrimmages take place today, being little more than practice games, for it will be several weeks yet before the real battles begin.

The situation is not altogether lovely, however. Far from it. It is complicated and unsatisfactory. So much so, in fact, that it is impossible to forecast with any degree of certainty just how strong the various members of the "big five" will be this fall. Judging from the number of veterans left over from last year Cornell ought to be unusually strong. Yale has lost by graduation and other causes more than half the 1906 squad, but it has some exceptionally strong recruits from the freshmen class of last year.

The University of Pennsylvania is fortunate in having lost but two of the members of last year's team. Princeton has lost heavily in the line, but reports from the training quarters indicate that the Tigers expect to be well able to care for themselves. Harvard is believed to be in the worst shape of any of the big colleges, due largely to the uncertainty existing the greater part of last year as to whether football would be continued as a college sport. Ann Arbor and West Point and also the Carleton Indians are counted upon to show up well.

With but few exceptions, the schedules of the big teams are much smaller this year than usual. There will be but two intercollegiate games of importance. One will be between the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and the other between the Carleton Indians and University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.

WALKED 25 MILES AT AGE OF 105 YEARS

Old Man Driven from Daughter's Home by Fire Succumbs After Long Tramp.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Kaukauna, Wla., Sept. 21.—The story of Alexander Rolley, who died recently at Green Bay, as told by a pioneer here, is one of the strangest on record.

Driven from the home of a daughter near Wallace, by fire, Rolley walked to Green Bay to stay with a son. The trip of 95 miles was too much for him, and he laid down to die.

Now it develops, with ample proof, that Rolley was 104 years old, having been born in Belgium in 1803. He saw in the distance the battle of Waterloo. He fought in the Civil war, and helped build the Boomtown hotel at Green Bay as a stone mason, and lived to see the blackened ruins of it. He helped also to build the old Brown county jail, and the chapel at Robinsonville, where the Virgin is said to have appeared. Burial was at Casco, Wla.

FOOTBALL MEN AT WORK ONCE MOREPROSPECTS GOOD FOR A FINE
TEAM AT MADISON.

OLD PLAYERS ARE BACK

But None of Them Are Certain
of Their Places as So Many New
Applicants Are in the Field.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 21.—Football coaches at the University of Wisconsin are gleeful over the certainty of hot competition for positions on the 1907 Badger eleven. While eight of the members of last year's team are returning to the game this fall, the coaches were apprehensive for a time lest the fact that so many veterans were to be in the running with fair assurance of holding their places would not net as a deterrent to present new material from coming to the school from coming out and doing the hard work of trying for places. It is the usual experience of coaches having large veteran squads to find difficulty, not only in getting new material to come out, but, more dangerous, in getting out of the veterans themselves the hard, consistent work necessary to develop a strong eleven.

Dr. C. P. Hutchins, head coach, and Dr. Charles McCarthy, assistant, declare that such danger is to be avoided here, as every member of the freshman team of last year, some of whom would doubtless have made the varsity team had it not been for the folding rule against freshman participation in intercollegiate contests.

Then there are a number of good men who were barred last season by reason of having changed their schools and therefore coming into competition with the intercollegiate law which forbids an athlete changing from one university to another for participation in the intercollegiate contests of the new school until he has been there a year. This latter rule kept David Brakeman, former Indiana university star, from playing on the Badger eleven last season. He was here last year and practiced some, enough to demonstrate his superiority over the Wisconsin tackles, but his enthusiasm could not be expected to keep him at work long in view of the impossibility of getting into any games. This year, however, he is eligible and will doubtless hold down the tackle position vacated by Johnson of last year's team.

While Gelbach and Beyer will not return to try for guard positions, Huntley, who played in some 1906 games, will be back. It is possible that Davidson, because of his weight, will be placed at guard, but the chances are that he will play tackle, for he is fast, shifty and strong. Messner and Oldham will try again for the tackle, while Messner, doing as before the better of the race in case Davidson leaves only one tackle to be filled. There is little prospect of "Jumbo" Stehm being held pressed to hold his place at center, although several candidates will try for the place and good reserves will be available in case of an injury to Stehm.

Frank and Rogers naturally will be favorites for their places at the ends, but Pudek, who starred at the end of the freshman team last fall, will give them a merry race and it is predicted freely that he will make the varsity team. Takich, who was reputed to be the strongest man on the freshman eleven last year, has notified Dr. Hutchins that he will be back to try for a job at guard. He was a member of the Wisconsin freshman crew which defeated Stanford in the intercollegiate regatta held here. Murphy, head coach, a member of the 1906 freshman eleven and also a member of the crew, will be here to enter the hard competition for a place at tackle or guard. Then there is Gage, captain of the 1906 freshman eleven, and a teammate, Jacobson, who played end, Colver, the freshman who last year caused frequent humiliating stories to go out when the varsity line failed to prevent him from crossing the goal line in practice, will try for a place behind the line. He is an exceptionally fast man and his mate, Cathoff, swimming champion and freshman halfback, will also try for varsity honors against the veterans Miller, Howard, Boukup and Zelsler, all of whom played in the varsity backfield in games last year. Captain Miller may be expected to retain his place at halfback, but must work off scholastic conditions first. Howard is favorite for fullback but will be given a run by Cathoff, who has declared his liking for the place between the halfbacks. Curtin, who played a strong game at half last year, will not be back in the game. "There is also some chance that Soukup, who was out of the game part of last season with a broken leg, will feel that discretion is the better part of valor and refrain from playing. His parents are understood to oppose his appearance on the gridiron. Guenther, quarterback of the freshman team, has written that he will report early to give Springer a chase of the important place on the varsity eleven. This situation is gratifying to those who hope for a successful season, to wind up with the big game with Minnesota.

Some disquieting rumors have come to the effect that three of the best veterans of last season, who had been counted upon by Coach Hutchins as certain or reasonably certain to be available for the 1907 eleven, will not be in the gridiron squad. It is said that Art Frank, end, had been positively forbidden by his father from entering any athletic training, not only football but also basketball. It was also reported that Howard, last year's fullback, would not show up at the

TEAM AT MADISON.

OLD PLAYERS ARE BACK

But None of Them Are Certain
of Their Places as So Many New
Applicants Are in the Field.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 21.—Football coaches at the University of Wisconsin are gleeful over the certainty of hot competition for positions on the 1907 Badger eleven. While eight of the members of last year's team are returning to the game this fall, the coaches were apprehensive for a time lest the fact that so many veterans were to be in the running with fair assurance of holding their places would not net as a deterrent to present new material from coming to the school from coming out and doing the hard work of trying for places. It is the usual experience of coaches having large veteran squads to find difficulty, not only in getting new material to come out, but, more dangerous, in getting out of the veterans themselves the hard, consistent work necessary to develop a strong eleven.

Dr. C. P. Hutchins, head coach, and Dr. Charles McCarthy, assistant, declare that such danger is to be avoided here, as every member of the freshman team of last year, some of whom would doubtless have made the varsity team had it not been for the folding rule against freshman participation in intercollegiate contests.

Then there are a number of good men who were barred last season by reason of having changed their schools and therefore coming into competition with the intercollegiate law which forbids an athlete changing from one university to another for participation in the intercollegiate contests of the new school until he has been there a year. This latter rule kept David Brakeman, former Indiana university star, from playing on the Badger eleven last season. He was here last year and practiced some, enough to demonstrate his superiority over the Wisconsin tackles, but his enthusiasm could not be expected to keep him at work long in view of the impossibility of getting into any games. This year, however, he is eligible and will doubtless hold down the tackle position vacated by Johnson of last year's team.

While Gelbach and Beyer will not return to try for guard positions, Huntley, who played in some 1906 games, will be back. It is possible that Davidson, because of his weight, will be placed at guard, but the chances are that he will play tackle, for he is fast, shifty and strong. Messner and Oldham will try again for the tackle, while Messner, doing as before the better of the race in case Davidson leaves only one tackle to be filled. There is little prospect of "Jumbo" Stehm being held pressed to hold his place at center, although several candidates will try for the place and good reserves will be available in case of an injury to Stehm.

Frank and Rogers naturally will be favorites for their places at the ends, but Pudek, who starred at the end of the freshman team last fall, will give them a merry race and it is predicted freely that he will make the varsity team. Takich, who was reputed to be the strongest man on the freshman eleven last year, has notified Dr. Hutchins that he will be back to try for a job at guard. He was a member of the Wisconsin freshman crew which defeated Stanford in the intercollegiate regatta held here. Murphy, head coach, a member of the 1906 freshman eleven and also a member of the crew, will be here to enter the hard competition for a place at tackle or guard. Then there is Gage, captain of the 1906 freshman eleven, and a teammate, Jacobson, who played end, Colver, the freshman who last year caused frequent humiliating stories to go out when the varsity line failed to prevent him from crossing the goal line in practice, will try for a place behind the line. He is an exceptionally fast man and his mate, Cathoff, swimming champion and freshman halfback, will also try for varsity honors against the veterans Miller, Howard, Boukup and Zelsler, all of whom played in the varsity backfield in games last year. Captain Miller may be expected to retain his place at halfback, but must work off scholastic conditions first. Howard is favorite for fullback but will be given a run by Cathoff, who has declared his liking for the place between the halfbacks. Curtin, who played a strong game at half last year, will not be back in the game. ..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, Sept. 21, 1867.—New Goods.—Hurdick & Treat are now receiving and opening their new goods. Particulars on Monday.

Exhibition.—The exhibition next Tuesday evening to be given by the ladies and gentlemen of Christ church will be a rich treat as we have reason to believe upon examining the program. Let them be greeted by a good house.

Concerning Grant.—While all the newspapers and politicians are engaged in defining the position of General Grant there is a namesake of his in this city whose position needs no defining on the fruit and vegetable question as the people of the city already understand.

Meeting of Society.—At a meeting of the Janesville Horticultural society last evening the secretary was authorized to offer a reward of ten dollars for the first person caught stealing fruit or committing any depredation whatever in any garden in this city or vicinity. There is no joke about this matter as from the numerous acts of transgressions of this kind that have recently taken place the society has resolved into a committee of the whole of "vigilance" and are determined to prosecute to the very letter any and all violations of the statutes in such cases made and provided. It is needless that the law is very severe on offenders of this kind.

To Advertise.—Advertisers must hand in their favors as early as noon to insure their insertion the same day.

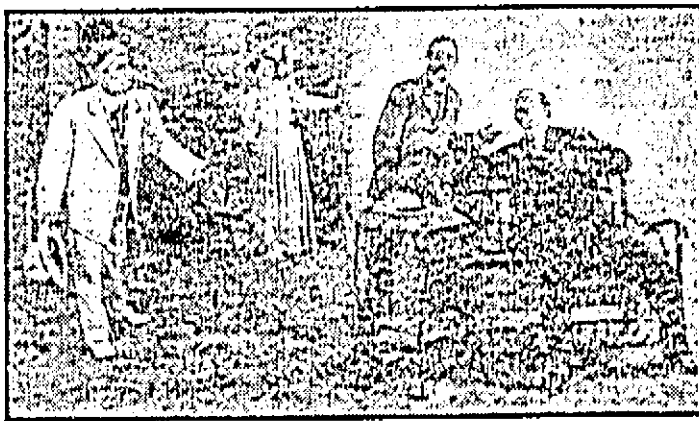

Before The Footlights

Mr. Dittschstein, himself, famed not only as an author, is exceedingly the leading exponent of high-class farce in the United States, and this year his efforts are aided and abetted by the foremost delineators of farce in the United States. With him, for instance, is Hazel Chappel, a dainty Miss, who is splendidly convincing and pleasing as Mrs. Page; Aubrey Beattie, James Jeffrey "not the champion, I spell my name," Edward Elton, one of the best actors given to America by the English stage in years, Edward Durrant, Kenyon Bishop, John Arthur, Mabel Phidley, and

Mr. Cullen will be remembered as the producer of "The Baroness" and "The Tenderfoot."

"The Flower of the Ranch."

Barrison and Howard in Western scenes and songs, which appears November 2, is a hit. "The Flower of the Ranch" is the vehicle in which Mabel Barrison and Joseph Howard will have their season under the direction of the Ask-Hugger company. It is a Western comedy-melodrama, with music—and, incidentally, the first entertainment of this type to be staged, for it was pro-

SCENE FROM "BEFORE AND AFTER" HERE WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 25th. The two most beautiful women on the American stage today.—Madeline Love and Nellie Butler.

"Before and After" is headed this way at the present time, and laughter-lovers among the theatre-goers, public may well rejoice thereat, because the offering is a sure cure for dyspepsia, insomnia and kindred ailments.

It will be seen at the Myers theatre Wednesday, Sept. 25.

Gas Weinberg and dainty Ruth White will head the big revival of "The Baroness," which Wm. P. Cullen will present at the Myers theatre Saturday, Sept. 28, matinee and evening. These two clever people are the originals in the roles of Peter Buxbaum, governor of New Amsterdam, who sleeps for 200 years and awakes to find himself in modern New York; and of Willie, the glided youth who essays to show him around the town. The costumes for the revival are all new, and are the handsomest. It is said, of any musical comedy now touring. The scenery all new, some of the scenes having been changed. "The Baroness" was the first of the Pilsky and Linder's popular successes to gain favor. It is in a class with "Tollin Hood" and "The Prince of Pilsky" for timelessness and many of the numbers have come to be known as classics. "The Tale of the Kangaroo," "I Love You," the famous Indian chorus, the Italian Dances, and other songs have a hit that sends the auditor from the theatre whistling merrily. Mrs. White has written a new song which experts claim will be a large seller. It is entitled "There's Only One Street, and That's Broadway." The chorus, which is a very large one, has been selected especially for its singing and dancing ability.

Night school, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Day school from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. You may spend only a few hours a day or week.

OUR METHODS
are applied to any class of cutting and will follow every possible change of fashion. They work purely automatically, have no rules or proportions to be learned and remembered, are absolutely perfect fitting, and for ease of learning, speed and style are undoubtedly superior to all other methods.

While for the professional they are simply invaluable, they are most practical for the beginner or home dressmaker. Being very easy to learn and producing absolutely correct results, they enable one to do the most difficult cutting with perfect ease and confidence.

Instructors.—The class room is in charge of lady teachers, having had years of experience in their respective departments, and who will be found to be patient, courteous and efficient.

Ladies are invited to visit the class-room or write for information.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

"If you chance to lose your grip
Some dark day, young fellow,
Don't parade a drooping lip,
Nor begin to bellow;
Just spit on yer hands, my son
An' a fresh trail follow;
Run the race you've got to run—
Don't lie down an' holler!"

"Grab a fresh hold; don't you quit,
'Cause you've made one blunder;
No use squalling that yer bit—
You're the dog 'twixt under.
Just put up a savvy fight,
An' I'll bet a dollar
That you're going to come out right—
Don't lie down an' holler!"

"Get yer teeth and show yer sand,
'Ppose you chance to tumble;
That's the time to play yer hand,
'Taint no use to grumble.
If yer out to win a name,
Or to win the dollar,
Here's the way to bug the game—
Don't lie down an' holler!"

The Los Angeles Express is responsible for this scrap of homely advice, which contains so much of practical common sense suggestion. The pathway of life is anything but a thoroughfare of roses, and so beset by pitfalls and discouragements that many people lose their grip long before the journey is completed.

It is frequently said of old men, who are living on the edge of time, and who wander about the street in aimless existence, that they have lost their grip.

No word of criticism is offered, for the natural tendency of age is to let go, and when an old man shows a disposition to drop out of the race no objection is made. In fact so little presents itself, by way of hindrance, that many men retire before their time, and sacrifice several years of usefulness as well as happiness, for the man accustomed to active life is always the happiest when loaded up with work and responsibility.

The sweet-faced old lady who rocks in the twilight by the fireside, living over in memory the happy and busy years of the past, has lost her grip, but she enjoys the title of grandmother, and her presence in any home is a choice benediction not always appreciated because of ingratitude and lack of appreciation.

But men and women lose their grip, at every stage of the journey, from young man and womanhood, down to the verge of old age and feebleness.

There is no disgrace in being knocked out in the race, for it is evidence that a man is in the thick of the fray, struggling for a foothold. The disgrace comes in not getting up and going at it again.

Many a man has failed and become satisfied with a mediocre life, who might have gone to the front as a prize-winner, had he possessed the courage to try again.

There are two things which contribute largely to success, in any calling. They are ambition and fixedness of purpose. Plenty of people possess the former, but have no definite aim, and so energy is wasted. Others dream of what they would like to accomplish, but fail to exert the necessary effort.

The two must go together, and when they possess the mind, the word

"failure" has no place in the vocabulary, however, adverse may be the circumstances.

The oak, that stands out in the open, subjected to wind and storm, becomes a strong and vigorous tree, and passes the century mark in the prime of life, while the sapling, protected in the forest, spirals up to go down before the blast.

Men and women resemble trees, in this respect. They fail to do their own thinking and planning, and as a result are weak, when buffeted by the storms of life. This is especially true in the industrial world, where the best interests of the individual are lost in the interests of the union.

The strenuousness of the walking delegate, is more potent than the call of the home, or the voice within, which prompts every thoughtful man to conserve his own interests by faithful intelligent service.

The Wall Street Journal published some four years ago the names of half a dozen men, on the shady side of sixty, who were at the head of some of the nation's great enterprises.

Such men as the late Marshall Field, J. Pierpont Morgan, J. J. Hill, Henry C. Rogers, John D. Rockefeller and John Wanamaker.

All men who had reached the age of retirement, and yet whose power and influence was felt as a mighty force.

The class of old men known as the "old guard," found in every community, whose judgment and hard common sense is never questioned. These are the men who never lost their grip in all the checkered experiences of active life.

They ought to be an inspiration to young men, and men in middle life, who get knocked out in the first round, and who spend their time in chanting a wail of complaint, because fortune failed to smile, and adverse circumstances were against them.

It does not follow that every man may become a merchant prince, or a great financier, but it does follow that every man may attain a satisfactory degree of success, who works for it with will and determination.

The highway of life is thronged with another class of young men, who never lost their grip because they never had any to lose.

They are found on the streets, and in the saloons, drifting aimlessly, with no ambition to satisfy except the greed of appetite, and the demands of selfishness.

This class of boys are not degenerate, as a rule, but simply aimless and destitute of ambition. The church fails to reach them, and the Y. M. C. A. is no more successful. They are not tramps, for the most of them are sheltered in indulgent homes, where their shortcomings are condoned or overlooked.

Someone has said that the neighbors and community know our children, much better than they are known in the home, and the statement is doubtless true. The eyes of love are usually blind to imperfections.

Every young man owes it to himself to have a grip on life, before he launches out on his busy activities. A grip so strong that it will increase in intensity under the strain of pressure, and backed by a will so judgmentable, that it will never be lost.

The prodigal son, of olden time, was a profligate until "he came to himself." That is the most important epoch in any young man's life, for it means appreciation and determination, two important factors in tightening the grip.

The Chicago Tribune has just closed a straw-vote campaign, conducted in 45 states. Forty-five hundred letters from republican editors and politicians, expressed, by a strong majority a third-term sentiment for Roosevelt, with Taft as second choice. Foraker is strong with the colored vote of the south.

Mayor Becker of Milwaukee is to be commended for his efforts to arouse public sentiment for good roads. He is engaged in a work of common sense reform and entitled to every encouragement.

The Walworth county fair was a success in spite of the rain. Every farmer in the county is an enthusiastic supporter and all the citizens work together to make it the big event of the year.

Dietz is $15,000 to the good, but he has been a dozen years in securing it, and no one envies him the money.

Carrie Nation has discovered that life is more strenuous in Washington than in Kansas.

The day of the witches has returned to Zion City and one life has been sacrificed to fanaticism.

Extreme Hardship Threatens La X. Sheboygan Journal: La X is threatened with a street railway strike and everybody in that town is feeling the calamity of walking around the block to dinner.

Fair Lillian's Obesity Cure. Exchange: Lillian Russell's obesity cure is to "roll, roll, roll." And the man who goes "rolling home in the morning" will doubtless be able to see the point.

That Freeport Fracas.

Green Bay Gazette: Pink Hawley declares it was a woman who pulled his ear partly off in the fracas at Freeport. Maybe the Cannons will now say that the fellow who would lay the blame on a woman ought to have his hearing apparatus jerked.

How the Tribunes Raged.

Milwaukee Free Press: The Chicago Tribune may not live to regret having said that "the majority voting against the city charter Tuesday," were a heterogeneous aggregation; prejudiced, misinformed, ignorant, or self-seeking," but it probably will.

Who Cares, Anyway?

Oshkosh Northwestern: Collier's Weekly explains that the reason it has commenced a damage suit against Mr. Post, of patent breakfast food fame, is because the latter "went too far." As a matter of fact that is exactly what Mr. Post claims about Collier's.

Three or Four Thousand Miles Away.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Says the Louisville-Courier, "La Follette of Wisconsin talks of his home as seriously as if he thought the seismograph registered its daily variations." Why, the seismograph is a delicate instrument, neighbor, and will detect mighty small movements.

Same Old Overbearing Tactics.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Great Britain makes all the treaties and binds the colonies without asking their consent. Both Canada and Australia are dissatisfied with the Japanese alliance and the situation is an awkward one for the ministry at London. It is not easy to pool issues in the old world and the new.

'Tis a Carnival of Grief.

Pond du Lac Reporter: The logic of this (Mr. Gordon's remarks about costly funerals) cannot be disputed. The modern funeral is a sort of carnival of grief. The musician who can put the most pathos into his song, the clergyman who can bring the deepest sense of their loss to the mourners, and the undertaker who has the most phrases on his hearse are the ones most in demand. It isn't logic or philosophy, but it's human.

"Don't Over-Announce, Clinton."

Milwaukee Independent: Clinton, anxious to the world that she is going to become a poultry center. Don't over-announce, Clinton. Down at Delavan when that city was a poultry center orders for eggs came in so fast that hens east of Spring Prairie were called upon. For four some ordinary district might wrest the hen-honors boiled hard, and then buyers got wise, hollered hard, and then buyers got wise, Poultry centers must be handled right.

Beaten But Magnanimous.

Madison Journal: The State Journal, as is well known, opposed the election of Mr. Stephenson to the senatorship and would prefer not to see him re-elected, but it recognizes the fact that Mr. Stephenson is under no obligation to keep out of the field. If he were to start upon a campaign for re-election today there would be no bad faith in it. The people who are pleading the alleged agreement as a reason why Stephenson should keep out of the field are the same ones who refused to support the Marquette man, in consideration of the agreement.

The New Fabric.

New York Tribune: Nylon is the name given by its manufacturers, a German firm at Plauen, to a kind of paper thread made from wood fibre. According to the descriptions given in various technical publications, this new product can be used in the looms in the same way that cotton and linen yarns are used. The thread is not brittle, and has a hard surface; it has great tensile strength, and is capable of being woven into all manner of cloth, from pocket handkerchiefs to floor carpets. Nylon neither shrinks nor stretches in any appreciable degree, and moisture has no particular effect upon it. It is susceptible to dyes to a considerably greater extent than cotton and linen, while the price is only one-third that of the former and one-tenth that of the latter material.

$25 SAVED

What is being said in the corner space day by day is not only true but is of vital interest to every reader.

You probably remember the statement that you can save money by choosing Dr. Richards to do your dentistry.

Not long since mention was made of a party who came here from Shullsburg, Wis., to have Dr. Richards do the work, and after paying $10, he saved $10 on the dental bill from what the home dentist wanted to charge.

Now comes a party from another neighboring town for a lot of gold bridge-work, and after Dr. R. had fully and squarely set his price at $25, under what the home dentist wanted to charge for the job.

Of course he got the work to do, the guarantee his work to be of the very highest quality.

This being true, why pay twice what is necessary when by choosing him for your dentist.

You get equal work at a much less fee?

WATCH REPAIRING

The quality of the work depends on the ability of the mechanic who does the work. When a watch is left with us to be cleaned or repaired, you can rest assured that it will not be given to an apprentice to practice on, at the owner's expense, as we only employ watch repairers of years of experience. More watches are spoiled by incompetent workmen than by usage. Cheap prices call for cheap work, many times. "The best that can be done" is our aim.

MAXFIELD FILES WRITTEN OPINION

CITY ATTORNEY TAKES UP THE RIVERVIEW PARK CLAIMS.

SAYS THE CITY WAS RIGHT

Believes That the Law Upholds the Action of Council as to Grading.

To the Honorable Mayor and Members of the Common Council of the City of Janesville.

Gentlemen: In pursuance of the duties imposed on me by law, as the attorney of this city, and in order that my opinion may appear of record, when the question of street improvements is held for by special assessment of benefits and damages may hereafter be presented to the council, at this time, the opinion as to the law applicable to such cases. In the grading of Garfield avenue and other streets in Riverview park, which was done by an order of this council, made upon its own volition, some of the property owners abutting on these streets have filed claims with the city clerk in which they claim you have failed to assess the actual damages resulting to their property by the reason of the grading of these streets. The rule to be applied in these cases is the difference between the value of the abutting property before the street was graded and the value thereafter and in determining the same in the regular way damages to the house would be deemed to be included in the damages to the lot and in case where the damages to any such lot owner exceed the benefits the city is liable for such excess, and where the assessment is levied upon the basis of benefits and damages it makes no difference whether it is the first grade or a regrade. The city has the undoubted right to improve its streets by filling up or excavating the surface of the ground within the street limit, but the exercise of this right is subject to the qualifications that in the performance of this duty it causes no unnecessary damages to an adjoining land-owner resulting from the want of ordinary care in making the improvement or from a physical invasion of such owner's property thereby depriving him of it and devoting it to the public use. The removal of the lateral support of the soil of premises bordering on the limits of a street in making street improvements to the extent of causing a substantial part of the adjoining owner's land to subside and fall so as to injure the premises so affected is an actual appropriation of the soil to the extent of such injury and amounts to a taking of it for public purposes and the amount of the damages is the cost of the retaining wall. I would have filed this opinion at the last regular meeting of this council if I had had any knowledge of the intentions of the council in having the claims in question on the table. I deem the employment of any special counsel, however eminent, to assist in the trial of any action that may arise out of any of these claims, an unnecessary and unwarranted expense on the taxpayers of this city as I feel able to protect the city in any litigation in these matters as the law applicable to special assessments in cases of this nature is settled by our supreme court.

Respectfully submitted,
H. L. MAXFIELD,
City Attorney.

SCHOOL BOARDS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

Eighty Clerks and Other Members from the First District of Rock County Meeting Here Today.

About eighty clerks and other members of the school boards in the first district of Rock county met at the high school assembly room this morning for their annual convention. Superintendent Charles Hemmings presided at the session and explained some of the recent school laws, particularly those relating to compulsory attendance of children of a certain age during six months of the year and the provision requiring them to be enrolled during the first month of the fall term. He also called attention to the county uniformity textbook law—Chapter 561 of the session laws—a measure which is meeting with strong and almost universal approval among the instructors of the state and which was railroaded through the legislature, so it is alleged, in behalf of certain private interests. This afternoon Charles L. Harper of the state department of education explained various reports and Prof. E. C. Elliot of the U. of W. who is connected with the U. S. department of education, "Dollars for Dollars in Education." L. W. Wood, state inspector of rural schools, was also heard. The school board members are paid $2 a day for their time and 2 cents a mile according to the distance they come, for attending the convention.

ERNEST BLUHM IS IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Star Witness in Zimmerman Murder Trial Will Have Examination Monday on Charge of Stealing a Watch.

Ernest Blumh, sometimes known as "Annoles," who was prominent in the Zimmerman murder trial and who recently completed a two year term in state's prison for attempted assault, was haled into municipal court this morning on a warrant charging him with the theft of a nickel case watch belonging to Ernest Schlichting at the William Leiz saloon on Labor Day. Blumh asked for an opportunity to address the court and said: "I've been 30 hours without a hearing. I have a family depending on me for support and would like to have a chance to prove my innocence as soon as possible." On recommendation of District Attorney J. L. Fisher, Judge Fowler set the examination for Monday morning at 11 o'clock. He also fixed the bail at $500 and the prisoner was unable to furnish the bonds. It is understood that Blumh claims that he saw the watch on a wagon with Schlichting that he could draw a certain card out of a pack.

WOODSTOCK MAN HAS BOUGHT THE BEARS

City Hall Pets Were Shipped to George Arnold Today and Janesville Has Lost Chance to Start a Zoo.

"Baphram" and "Betsey," the two cub black bears which have been sojourning in the shadow of the city hall since the Indians killed their mother in a Sawyer county last spring, have been sold to "Shedewink," George Arnold of Woodstock, former superintendent of speed and a well known race-track man—and were shipped by express to the Illinois city today. They will be placed in a park at Woodstock where a fine home awaits them. There was a movement on foot some time ago to make these cubs the nucleus of a zoo in the lower city but only about $50 was subscribed for the project and the plan went the way of numerous other good suggestions which are broached but never reach fruition here. "Baphram" left front paw which was nearly bitten off by a savage bulldog about a fortnight ago, is slowly healing with the aid of the veterinarian.

Blumh also turns kicking the ground and in this extended time seems to be some very clever handling power. The bears were a feature of the Non-such drive, circus parade and have amused and instructed in nature lore hundreds of the little folks of the city.

BACK FROM MONTANA AFTER ABSENCE OF THIRTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Jones Migrated From Wisconsin in Late Seventies Left Here For Belmont Today.

J. O. Jones, head of the Jones Transfer Co. of Butte, Montana, and wife have been in the Grand hotel for the past day or two, and departed this morning for a visit at their old home in Belmont. They came from Pennsylvania to Wisconsin in the '60s and left Belmont for California in 1874. From thence they drifted to Butte, handling there with their household effects and just $10 in cash. The money was paid out for the first month's rent of an old shack as a dwelling place but in the meantime Mr. Jones had obtained employment. He is now worth about $100,000 and having reached the age of 65, has turned over his business to his sons. During his thirty odd years' absence from Wisconsin he has received no letter or newspaper telling him anything about his old neighbors in Belmont and the trip today is a sort of a voyage of discovery. Butte is a city of 100,000 with 500 saloons each paying $1,000 license and all gambling suppressed.

Wisconsin State League Medley. Green Bay Gazette: If the Freepoint baseball team were to give up the ghost today it is a safe bet that it would go into the hereafter for bad ball clubs, marked for the most tortuous kind of punishment. La Crosse may fall far short from qualities needed in the conduct of its ball team but it now seems that the pennant for rowdiness as well as baseball supremacy must go to the Illinois crowd.

In Monday's near riot, which was precipitated by the La Crosse captain's refusal to allow Freepoint the privilege of substituting a runner for an injured player, Freepoint fans as well as players revealed a trait of their nature which they should cast in the direction of the city outskirts and hereafter, nowhere in the league this summer had fans by the hundreds attacked a visiting team until Freepoint set about the task and badly injured members of the La Crosse aggregation.

Among the Worms. (La Crosse Tribune.) Now we ain't much on writin' verse, An' we'd like our lines to go down to crawl among the worms, But if someone were to ask us where to find a cheap skate sport, We should not wait for a moment, an' we'd tell him "at Freepoint."

AUGUST BUGGS IS SOMEWHAT BETTER

Despite the Two Fracture of the Skull He May Recover—Over 1,500 Panes of Glass Broken by Concussion.

Phydelians were somewhat encouraged this morning by the slightly improved condition of August Buggs, the young man who was so terribly injured in the explosion at the best sugar factory yesterday. "He is conscious; his ear has stopped bleeding; and all of his symptoms are better, though it will not be possible to determine his exact condition for three or four days," said Dr. R. W. Edden in response to an inquiry.

Although he has not talked much about the accident, the sufferer has stated that the concussion followed the striking of a match and this supports the theory advanced in yesterday's account of the catastrophe.

It was learned today that between 1,500 and 1,600 panes of glass in the main building of the plant were broken by the concussion.

MINE CAGE FALLS; ELEVEN MEN PERISH

FEARFUL ACCIDENT IN SHAFT AT NEGAUNEE, MICH.

BRAKE FAILS TO WORK

Miners Hurled Down 600 Feet—Seven Found Alive But Fatally Injured—Distressing Scenes on Surface.

Negaunee, Mich., Sept. 21.—By a cage plunging 600 feet down the shaft of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company mine, 11 men were killed and seven fatally injured Friday.

The cage with its human freight was being lowered on its first trip for the day when the brake on the hoisting drum suddenly failed to hold. Two other men sprang to the assistance of the one at the brake wheel, but their combined efforts did not avail and the wire cable continued to unravel from the drum like thread from a bobbin.

Cable Breaks, Cage Drops.

The cage shot down a couple of hundred feet before a kink in the too rapidly paying out cable caused it to part and from that point the cage had a sheer drop to the bottom of the shaft. The safety catches with which it was equipped failed to operate. The snarling of the cable tore out part of the side of the engine house and ripped out several of the sheaves in and about the shafthouse.

The machinery installed is not entirely new, but it had been thoroughly overhauled and the officials cannot account for the sudden inefficiency of the hoisting gear. The accident is the worst that has occurred in any mine in the city since the cave-in at the Negaunee mine January 7, 1902, entombing ten men.

Seven Fatally Hurt.

Workmen at the bottom of the mine immediately set about the gruesome task of removing the dead. Seven men were found still alive, but they are fatally hurt.

Thousands of people soon congregated about the mine shaft. In the crowd were the wives and children of the 200 men who are employed in the mine. Each thought that husband or parent or son was in the cage. There was no way of relieving the suspense, as the fallen cage blocked the exit. It was fully two hours before the cable was adjusted so that the cage could be raised to the surface.

When all the miners came from under ground and many anxious wives and others failed to find members of their families who worked in the mine, the scene was awful. The priests and ministers moved among the people consoling them and begging them to be calm.

JUDGE SCORES LAWMAKERS

LOCHREN SAYS MINNESOTA RATE LEGISLATION IS VICIOUS.

Issues Temporary Injunction Against Commodity Tariff Enacted by the Last Legislature.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 21.—Judge William Lochren, of the United States circuit court, Friday afternoon in a lengthy opinion delivered from the bench, granted the request of the complaining stockholders of the railroad operating in Minnesota, that a temporary injunction issue against the commodity rates enacted by the last state legislature.

The court, however, made preliminary rulings with the attorneys for the state in three other points, first, that the exercise of rate making power by the state does not interfere with interstate commerce; second, the merchandise rates ordered by the state railroad commission September 1, 1906, shall remain in force; third, the two-cent passenger rate enacted by the last legislature is not confiscatory and shall remain in effect. The injunction only affects those rates which were to have taken effect June 1 last, but which did not because of the restraining order of the court.

In his opinion the court arraigned the Minnesota legislature with a tongue lashing such as a legislative body has seldom if ever before received from a judicial bench.

"There is no question," said the court, "but that such legislation (referring to the rate laws of the recent session) is vicious, and a disgrace almost to the civilization of the age. It is a reproach on the intelligence and sense of justice of any legislature which would promote acts of that kind."

WU TING FANG MAY RETURN.

Former Chinese Minister to Washington Likely to Be Reappointed.

Peking, Sept. 21.—It was announced Friday that Liang Tzu-Yen, who had been selected to succeed Sir Chen Tung Liang as minister to Washington, had instead been appointed assistant secretary of the war-wu-pu, or Chinese board of foreign affairs. While no official announcement has yet been made of the name of the new minister to Washington, it is understood that the determination has been reached to send Wu Ting Fang back to that post.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Wu Ting Fang, who is indicated in the cable dispatches from Peking to be returned to Washington in the capacity of minister, left this capital four years ago and, going to Peking, became one of the under secretaries of the old times. It was, which was the predecessor of the present war-wu-pu or foreign office of China. His career here is remembered with satisfaction because it was largely owing to his active intervention, through his friend, Yuan Shih-Kai then viceroy of Shanghai, and at the beginning of his own brilliant upward course in China, that communication was established with the beleaguered legation in Peking during the stormy days of the Boxer uprising in 1900.

Stanhope, the paragon of the First Methodist Episcopal church here to be married. As Rev. Dr. Charles N. Giffin was about to pronounce her the bride of Bessell who broke down and said that the man who stood beside her had threatened to shoot her unless she married him, and implored Dr. Giffin to save her.

Dr. Giffin it is said, seized the bridegroom and held him a prisoner until Miss Crouse had returned to her boarding house in Ocean Grove, where she has been staying with her parents. The police later ordered Bessell to leave the resort at once, which he did.

Railroad Men Maltreat Couriers.

Tangle, Sept. 21.—Eighteen mounted Moors belonging to the force gathered around Rauloff, the bandit chief, recently stopped couriers of the diplomatic corps who were on their way from Fez to Larache and after maltreating them, released the courier of the British and German legations without disturbing the mail which they carried. The Moors, who are said to have belonged to the Benharroun tribe, robbed the French mail bag.

Downward Course.

Fast Being Realized by Janesville People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders quickly follow. Diabetes and finally Bright's disease. This is the downward course of kidney ills. Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Janesville citizen. Mrs. Charles Potter, of 128 Washington St., Janesville, Wis., says: "My husband had kidney trouble for a number of years and it affected his back and limbs so as to keep him complaining all the time with pain. The backache and pain in the joints were especially severe. He used a number of kidney and backache remedies that did not help him and finally seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in the Janesville papers I went to the People's Drug Company and got a box for him. The result was entirely satisfactory. The pains and backache left him and he had no return of the trouble."

ARMED MEN GUARD THE POPE

CELEBRATION OF FALL OF POWER OF PAPACY IS PEACEFUL.

People of Rome Parade as Usual, but Refrain from Attacks on the Vatican.

Rome, Sept. 21.—Armed men in the service of the pope were on guard all day long Friday at the entrances of the apostolic palace, and the Vatican was under the especial protection of a detachment of royal troops, but there was no active outbreak of anti-clerical sentiments, and September 20, the thirty-seventh anniversary of the occupation of Rome by Italian troops and the fall of the temporal power of the papacy, passed without the fulfillment of any of the fears entertained by the Vatican, that the Italian people would show by deeds of violence their ill feeling against the church.

There were two big parades in the afternoon through the streets of the city, and the red-shirted Garibaldian veterans were conspicuous in the throng. The first parade was official and composed of the members of 50 local associations. The leaders laid wreaths upon the tombs of Victor Emmanuel and King Humbert, and decorated with flowers the table at the Porta Pia, which commemorates the entry of the Italian troops in 1870. The other parade was popular and unofficial. It marched past the capitol, carrying banners inscribed with anti-clerical sentiments.

During the day the police seized a number of anti-monarchist proclamations, and the walls of the city were plastered with appeals to the people to "complete the anti-clerical victory at the coming municipal elections."

63 DEAD IN MEXICAN WRECK.

Engineer of Freight Said to Have Confessed Disobeying Orders.

Mexico City, Sept. 21.—Fuller details of the wreck Thursday on the Mexican Central railroad at Encarnacion, where the El Paso express collided with a freight train, bring the total number of deaths to sixty-three and the number of injured is now given at forty-three. Many of the injured will die.

The engineer of the freight train, an American named Brock, is said to have confessed to disobedience of orders. Brock and the conductor of the freight train, named Raudleman, attempted to make their escape across the country after the accident. They were captured Friday by a squad of soldiers and are now in prison. The Mexican laws hold them strictly responsible for the accident.

The two trains met in a deep cut on a curve, going at full speed. The passenger train was two hours late and making up time. The two engines and the first four coaches of the passenger train were telescoped and demolished. The Pullman cars were not injured, and no Pullman passenger was hurt. It is now known definitely that no American was injured. The wreck is the worst in the history of the road.

Facts About The Great Majestic Range

It is the only range in the world made of Malleable and Charcoal Iron.

It has, beyond any question of a doubt, the largest and best reservoir.

It uses about half the fuel used on other ranges, and does better work by far.

The Majestic All Copper Nickeled Reservoir heats the water quicker and hotter than any other. It is the only reservoir with a removable frame.

The Charcoal Iron Body of the Great Majestic Range lasts three times as long as a steel body.

Being made of non-breakable material, there is practically no expense for repairing the Majestic.

As for baking, it is perfection, not only for a few months, but for all time to come.

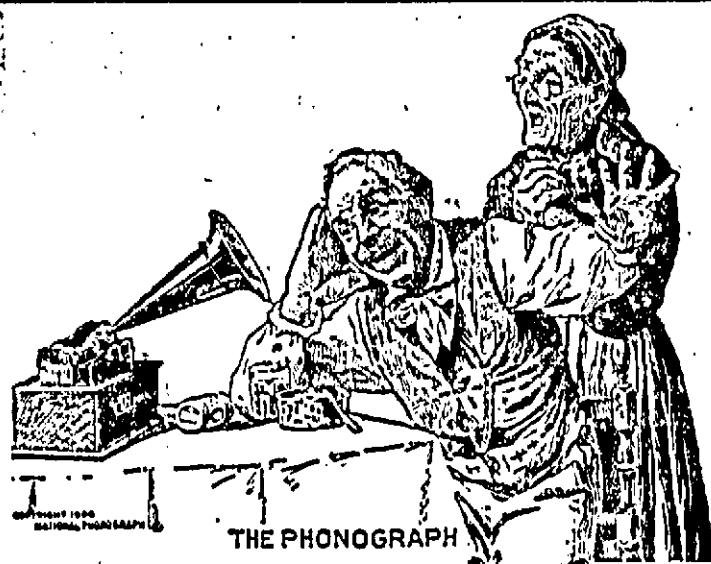

A Great Majestic Range lasts three times as long as a cheap range, but it doesn't cost three times as much.

PROOF—We don't ask you to take our word for any of the above statements, but if you will call at our store, a man from the factory, where Majestic ranges are made, will prove to your satisfaction, that these are absolute facts, and will show you many more reasons why the Great Majestic Range is absolutely the best that money can buy.
